March

Lets give a HUGE shout of Appreciation to our Farmers Market here at RCW.

I would like to share some information about how much our communities and economy are affected by these small business owners. While farmers markets may look a little different during the pandemic, these centers of commerce have largely continued to be staples of their communities. Farmers markets contribute about $9 billion to the U.S. economy every year, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). The Farmers Market Coalition (FMC) says that the number of farmers markets in the U.S. has grown from just under 2,000 in 1994 to more than 8,600 today.

It is also apparent here at RCW you don't have to be a farmer or food producer to participate, artisans, selling items like soap, candles, jewelry, pottery, services and more. The sense of community they create by sharing their passions and talent is incredible. They have incorporated the restriction and guidelines to keep themselves and our residents safe.

Thank you also to Paul Lupo who donates his wonderful talent on the piano to provide the perfect musical setting

1979 - 2021

Irish gent parks his dream here

By DANNY MADDUX
The Arizona Daily Star

It's a long way from Tipperary to Tucson, but George O'Leary has found his American dream — building a trailer park on the southeast side.

O'Leary, 47, grew up on a small farm near Tipperary and came to the United States in 1957 with "no regrets." He still looks over his shoulder and keeps a corner of his heart open for the Emerald Isle, however.

After building the Rincon Country Mobile Home Park from scratch in the nine years he's been in Tucson, he has moved next door to 8989 E. Escalante Road, where he's putting in a $2 million park for travel trailers. When it opens in October, it will be the culmination of a lot of hard work.

"I got an opportunity, and I passed the test," he says. "That's the important thing, not the worth of something." He says he loves construction work, which he started doing in Ireland.

"I like to do things," he says. "I don't take two-hour lunches."

O'Leary has become so American that, like many snowbirds who move to Tucson, he still calls someplace else "home." In his case it's Minnesota, where "I spent most of my adult life." But he also still talks as if he'd just stepped off the boat.

"It hasn't done me one bit of harm," he says of his accent.

"When I was growing up, I had a vision of the U.S. as a land of wonderment and enchantment," he says. "I was intrigued."

As a young man about to be married, he had a chance to come to the United States.

"I thought 'If I don't go before I get married, I'll never be able to,'" he says. After he arrived, the Latin saying "Veni, vidi, vici" — "I came, I saw, I conquered" — didn't apply to him for a while. "It was a case of 'Veni, vidi,' but no 'vici' for a long time," he said.

He brought his fiancée, Bridie, over from Ireland and eventually set up a construction business in St. Paul. He later built a trailer park there.

O'Leary says it was just a coincidence he took the oath to become an American citizen on St. Patrick's Day 1965. But there were a few jokes about the 16 inches of snow that fell on him and everybody else when he gave up his allegiance to Ireland that day.

"The good saint was having his share of revenge," he says.

He came to Tucson in 1970 to start Rincon Village. He enjoyed running the park, with its residents coming in from all over the country, but it became more than a full-time job. He sold out last year and looks forward to the seasonal nature of the park he's building.

"When the snowbirds leave, I can go with them, if I feel like it," he says.

It's not just blarney when he talks about the merits of his project, which will have 450 spaces on 27½ acres, and include a recreation center with craft shops, a swimming pool and tennis courts. He's already received reservations from people all over the country and Canada.

O'Leary goes back to Ireland about every year, flies the Irish tricolor on Irish holidays and says he still speaks Gaelic "fairly fluently."

"Any Irishman I meet, I speak first to him in Gaelic," he says. He says he's still proud of his heritage and language, but that doesn't make him any less of an American.

"This country gave me the opportunity to put my God-given talents to work," he says. "We should say a lot more positive things than negative."

Words from George

Even though I am coming up on my 90th birthday, I'm very fortunate to still have the ability to be the main guy at Rincon Country RV Resorts.

This did not happen by accident. Much of it is attributable to you, our residents, and your understanding and kindness toward me over the past 35 plus years.

It has been a labor of love building and maintaining Rincon Country West to the standard we operate at today.

Thank you from the bottom of my heart.
Each one of you are treasured guests.
Thank you!

Happy St Patrick's Day

O'Leary Was His Name!

By Gary Fisher

Former RCE Park Manager

To be sung to the tune:

"Wild Colonial Boy"

There was a man from Ireland,
O'Leary was his name!
He had a vision for the land he saw;
it would never be the same!
Day by day, he built his dream;
his plans were in his head!
The lack of money couldn't stop him now;
his dream would keep him fed!
He built a place for people to enjoy, and they came from far and wide!
They thanked O'Leary for what he had done; their hearts were full of pride.
What O'Leary built will never end; he showed people how to be bold!
O'Leary came from Ireland and his story will always be told!

Words from Dawn and the RCW Activity Office

RCW like many senior communities across the country has been forced to scrap their plans and adhere to new guidelines to ensure safety during the coronavirus pandemic. It has been a very difficult season this past year. Which many times our staff feeling less than productive. However the main focus was on keeping the safety of our residents the main priority.

I would like to give a big shout out to everyone for their cooperation and participation in the activities we were able to facilitate and enjoy. Also those of you who chose to help with neighbors who needed assistance during this pandemic. We truly have the best staff and Residents at RCW.

Just a quick reminder, please turn in your ongoing room requests, one time requests and park wide event forms to the Activity office no later than March 30th. If you were on the calendar for the 2020-2021 season there will be the opportunity for the right of 1st refusal for the room request, time slot or date of an event. Mary, Ingrid and I are also working on making 2021 – 2022 season one to remember.

The Theme will be “Adventure Never Ends”

Ideas and suggestions are always welcome. We will be announcing our Series events in the weeks to come. Those with reserved seating in 2020-2021 will be given the opportunity to prepay and reserve the same seats.

RCW Field of Dreams Pollinator Garden

The RCW Field of Dreams Pollinator Garden is “growing” quickly!! In the past month, we have added trees throughout the area and designated a corner specifically to attract birds and a corner specifically to attract butterflies and especially the Monarch.

In the bird corner, a living ocotillo fence has been planted as a shade structure and to give some definition to the garden. We hope to see some leaves on the ocotillo this year, but will probably not see any flowering until next year. We have planted shrubs that will be dense and grow low to the ground. These will serve as shelter and a nest-ing area. A water feature, donated by a very generous donor, was recently added for the birds to sip, bathe and just to play in. We have also added a hummingbird feeder that is already attracting many beautiful hummers!

In the Monarch corner, we have planted several flowering shrubs that will attract a variety of butterflies. At this time, there are four different species of Arizona native milk-weed. Milkweed is the only plant that hosts the Monarch butterfly, whose numbers have been decreasing in the past decade.

Throughout the garden, we have placed a variety of trees, shrubs, and plants that attract many different pollinators - birds, bees, butterflies, bats and other pollinating insects. Many of our plants serve as nectar food as well as hosts for laying eggs and for larval food. There are still a number of flowering plants that will be added to finish off the garden.

We have taken a systematic approach in planning the garden. Research has been done in order to make sure residents' donations are not wasted. You have probably witnessed how the garden has been progressing - first the space allocation, the ground being dug up and tilled and then the fence being installed. Our Planning and Design sub-committee laid out plans that would best use the space provided. The trees were chosen for their suitability to our garden and placed in the most advantageous location for both summer and winter sun and shade for other plants. The ocotillo fence serves the same purpose for the bird corner. We then chose shrubs that would best serve our needs. Birds need dense, low-to-the-ground shrubs for nesting and safety. Other shrubs and vines were placed along the fence so that, when they grow, they will “hide” the fence with a beautiful covering. The next phase was to begin with plants for specific pollinators, which is where we currently are in our process.

We will now begin purchasing and planting additional plants that will greatly enhance the garden with color, purpose, and suitability. We have begun mulching with wood chips - research of desert locales indicates that mulch is very helpful in preserving water at the base of each plant. The mulch will eventually decompose and add necessary nutrients to the soil - at that time, we will replace the mulch with new. You will note that, with the exception of the walkways, the entire garden will be covered with wood chip mulch for aesthetic purposes. It will help with the mud during the monsoon season, as well.

Pathways have been roughly laid out with white clothesline. ADA dictates that paths need to be 36” wide. Our paths will be 42” wide and will be formed with crushed stone with “fines.” Fines are the dust within the crushed stone. When placed and wetted down, the fines seep down into the crushed stone to make the surface hard. We are choosing this so that anyone in a wheelchair or with a walker or someone a bit un-steady on their feet will be able to walk safely on our garden pathways.

RCW Field of Dreams Pollinator Garden

We will be installing a self-watering irrigation system so that the garden will be fairly low-maintenance. Each plant will be watered according to its needs. The irrigation system will also be used to maintain the water level in the fountain that was recently installed near the bird corner.

As you can see, there has been a LOT of work done to research, plan, and begin im-plementing our Pollinator Garden. None of this would have been possible without YOU!! Some of you have provided countless volunteer time in a number of ways and some of you have provided the much needed monetary donations to help make this “Field of Dreams” come true. We cannot thank you enough for your interest and gen-erosity!! Please know that your donations are being used with frugality in mind, yet providing what is needed to make our Pollinator Garden a peaceful haven for all to en-joy! Thank you, Thank you, Thank you!!!

That being said, we are still in need of monetary donations to fully complete the gar-den. Please consider making a monetary donation or an additional donation to help us achieve our goals. You may drop your donation off at the Activity Office between the hours of 9:00 and 12:00 noon on any weekday. We thank you, from the bottom of our hearts, for your continued support!!

If you have any questions or would like to know how you can help with volunteering or with monetary donations, please do not hesitate to contact either of the Co-Facilita-tors:

Watch the schedule board outside the Depot

Many of our engineers and conductors have returned to work on the RCW Garden Railroad and are looking forward to a busy run season.

The garden has been cleaned up-pruned or replanted as necessary, pumps for the waterfall and river repaired to working order.

The buildings have been spruced up and the villages re-established. The schedule of when the trains will run is posted outside the Depot, so be sure to check the Board if you want to see when the trains will be in Operation.

Keep your eyes in the Villager for further information on train schedules.

Safety Rules & Precautions

Rincon Country West?

Our job is to be in charge of all the fun, all the time. However, occasionally we are asked to address serious stuff, like rule infractions and safety issues. Below is a list of most commonly noted concerns:

- ◆ Being in the dark – Please carry a flashlight when walking after dark. If you are biking, please have a light on your bike.
- ◆ Going the wrong way - Please remember to walk facing traffic and bike with traffic. This is especially important to avoid passing others within the 6 feet social distancing.
- ◆ Wandering humans with pet attached – All pets must be in the pet section, unless pet is a service animal. Humans, please assume that a pet outside the pet section is a service animal. If there is a concern, please see humans in the Main Office rather than create a confrontation. Humans, please remember pets must be cleaned up after and kept on a leash at all times!

GERMAN FOOD STATION

Max + Andrea Offermann from Germany welcome you at their German Food Station.

On our first trip to the United States in September 1990 we have got married in Las Vegas.

Since then, we fell in love with this country and its people and we always dreamed about living here.

Now, 22 years later our dream came true. We found a new home far from home in beautiful Arizona.

After passing all the necessary requirements we are now ready to kick off and proudly present our typical German Fast Food in the greater Tucson area.

They have been serving RCW for 9 years!

This Season At Rincon Country West RV Resort every other Monday, and at Thursday's Earthmade Farmers Market.

Mutts has been around Tucson since 2013. Greg and Sue moved to Tucson in 2012 from Grafton, Wisconsin. We grew up on loving brats from Usinger's Famous Sausages which is located in Milwaukee, Wisconsin and in business since 1885. We use this famous brand exclusively when we grill at events and also sell the packaged product for customers to take home.

You see Kyle grilling at Rincon. He is our future son-in-law and is learning the in and outs of running the business.

Mutts does events and Farmers Markets in the Tucson area. Look for the Mutts' Tent at the Heirloom Farmers' Markets in Green Valley and Oro Valley and the new Foothills Sunday Market at the Foothills Mall. In the past have been at the 4th Ave Street Fair, Tucson Classic Car Show, Tucson Celtic Festival, Gem Show, Patagonia Falls Festival, SAACA events, Rodeo, and many others.

URBAN STREET BISTRO

Urban street Bistro was founded in 2020 by OdayWer (Operator/Sole Owner). Chef Oday grew up in restaurants his whole life and started to working at the age of 9.

Watching his family start-up 8 restaurants gave inspiration to stay in the family trade. Now fast forward with 20 years experience, Chef Oday brings Urban Street Bistro- Food Truck to Tucson Streets! Serving many kinds of classics from all over the globe, whether it is Mediterranean, Italian, or American we love to do it all and switch it up. Our goal and mission is to bring favorites to you with

Thank You

RCW THANK YOU to our Food Trucks

WRAPIDO

This is a just a portion of the January 21, 2021 Tucson Caliente article . We here at RCW are very happy that these two have embarked on this new adventure.

A native Tucsonan and 35 year veteran of the food service industry, Smith was living his best life as the executive chef at the Tucson Marriott University Park hotel near the University of Arizona; his position for the last 21 years.

Then the pandemic hit.

Smith was furloughed without pay in March and let go completely in October.

'We didn't realize when all this started that it would last so long,' he said.

Rather than scramble to find another restaurant gig with the thousands of other industry workers who found themselves in the same boat during the pandemic, Smith and his wife, Elizabeth Warburton-Smith, decided they would rather go into business for themselves.

SARGE'S CHEESECAKES QUESADILLAS & MORE

These trucks will be coming the first and third Wednesday of every month, from 4-7 PM
